

Eumedion Thesis Prize 2010

Call for theses on environmental, social and corporate governance issues (ESG)

Eumedion invites students to submit theses for its 2010 Thesis Prize

The Eumedion Thesis Prize is awarded annually to the best doctoral thesis on environmental, social and/or corporate governance aspects ('ESG'), which are related to listed companies and relevant for shareholders and their investment processes. The Thesis Prize aims to support and encourage excellence in ESG research and writing at a graduate level.

All aspects of ESG are eligible for the prize, including (sustainable) remuneration, shareholders shorttermism, active ownership, risk management, (sustainable) reporting and the functioning of the supervisory board or general meetings.

So, does your thesis exhibit significant new work and originality in the field of ESG, clearly driven by the author? And, is the content well explained and does it demonstrate a good understanding of the subject? Please, join the thesis competition!

The only thing you have to do is to submit your thesis before 15 September 2010.

Terms of references

Before entering the competition, please take notice of the following terms:

- Theses awarded a Master's or doctoral degree by a Dutch University or Higher Education (Hogeschool) are eligible for consideration
- Non Dutch nationals are eligible but their theses must have been made at a Dutch University or Higher Education.
- Your thesis should address ESG issues, and be written either in English or Dutch.
- Your thesis was awarded with a grade of 7 or higher.

Procedure

Submitted applications will be reviewed by the Eumedion Thesis Prize Jury. The prize is awarded to the author of the thesis who, in the opinion of the Jury, best demonstrates originality, contribution to the field of ESG, clarity of argument and potential impact.

The winning candidate will be awarded a certificate and a monetary prize of € 2500, in cash.

The prize will be presented to the winner by the Chairman of Eumedion, at the Meeting of Eumedion's participants on 25 November 2010.

Submit

Your thesis can be sent as an email attachment to info@eumedion.nl by the deadline of 15 September 2010.

Previous recipients

2009

Sanne van der Meer, University of Groningen

For her thesis "Supervisory Board Compensation: Paying for Complexity" An empirical investigation of the aspects influencing supervisory board pay in the Netherlands.

2008

Jos Beckers, University of Nijmegen

For his thesis (in Dutch) "Eendracht maakt macht - Op zoek naar een toverformule ter regulering van acting in concert".
